

ADDRESS: 376 MARTIN ST

Name of Resource: German Evangelical Lutheran Bethanien Burial Ground of Manayunk & Roxborough

Review: Designation

Property Owner: Southeastern Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

Nominator: John Manton and Joseph Menkevich

Staff Contact: Kim Chantry, kim.chantry@phila.gov

OVERVIEW: This nomination proposes to designate the burial ground site at 376 Martin Street as historic and list it on the Philadelphia Register of Historic Places. The nomination contends that the property satisfies Criteria for Designation A, I, and J. Under Criterion A, the nomination argues that the burial ground is associated with the lives of persons significant in the past, including Civil War soldiers and German-speaking Lutheran immigrants. Under Criterion I, the nomination contends that the site may be likely to yield information in history. In addition to the burial ground, an 1850 German Lutheran Church stood on the site; it was demolished after Bethany Lutheran Church constructed a new church across the street in 1873. According to the nomination, nearly 1,000 burials were recorded by the turn of the twentieth century. Under Criterion J, the nomination contends that the burial ground exemplifies the cultural, political, economic, social, or historical heritage of the community by its connections through its ministers, trustees and its German-speaking immigrant congregants, who were mill workers and mill owners that contributed to the development of Manayunk and Roxborough, and by the German-American Lutheran veterans interred at the site.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION: The staff recommends that the nomination demonstrates that the burial ground at 376 Martin Street satisfies Criteria for Designation I and J, but that the arguments for Criterion A are covered under Criterion J and therefore Criterion A can be omitted.

6. DESCRIPTION: GERMAN EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN BETHANIEN CHURCH – MANAYUNK

“The Lutherans were the last of the major Protestant communions to enter the Twenty-first Ward area. German speaking Lutherans organized in 1845 and in 1848 bought the lot on Martin Street in Roxborough where their cemetery is now situated. Here the first church building was erected and dedicated in 1851...

There is no known photograph of the first German Evangelical Lutheran Church of Manayunk. It may have been a small single-story clapboard structure - lacking a basement, similar to the image below.

A little Sunday School of eight children was also begun. A second and larger church building was dedicated in 1874. In 1889 a Sunday School for English-speaking Lutherans which had been begun at Temperance Hall, Mansion and Levering Streets, led to the establishing of an independent congregation worshipping entirely in English. Its members were drawn mainly from Bethanien (Bethany) Church and formed the Epiphany Lutheran Church. In 1891 by an alteration in the charter the official name of the German Church became ‘The German Evangelical Lutheran Bethanien Church of Manayunk and Roxborough’... English services were introduced in 1934, but German services continue to be largely attended...” ⁷

Manayunk and Roxborough.

At the time our church was founded, this area was not yet the 21st “ward” among the 40 “wards” in the metropolis of Philadelphia, but a very modest little village. Where today long rows of houses stretch out and the electric train runs on its tracks on well-paved streets, the first churchgoers still trudged through rough country roads and the first Sunday schoolchildren climbed around in the forest-like trees on their way to Sunday school when they went to the little church.

Manayunk is a Native American word meaning "water spring;" Roxborough is of English origin and means "rock village;" both meaningful names. This mountain peak is beautifully framed by the world-famous Wissahickon with its parks and the Schuylkill with its many industrial workshops.

It was the iron and woolen mills chiefly that brought the German population to this part of town, and as the Pencoyd ironworks grew and the wool, calico, velvet and paper mills were established here along the Schuylkill, so did more countrymen, also from Austria-Hungary, all business classes were represented...

At the time, the idea of building the church on Grape street and Silverwood street was being considered, but the chosen location on Martin street and Pechin street is so centrally located that churchgoers can't be uncomfortable approaching their church from all sides to reach; mountaineering is something everyone here is used to anyway, and our ancestors always liked to build their churches on mountain tops.

"Up there is the chapel, quietly looking down into the valley," says the folk song, and it's worth something if the services aren't finished Railway and road rattles, as usual in cities, are disturbed in an unpleasant way. So it was wise to build the church on the rock of Roxborough, a symbol also of that which our Savior speaks of in the Sermon on the Mount, "Whoever builds his house on the rock (namely on the confession of Jesus Christ).

Manayunk easily accessible to "draw the water of life from the well of salvation" here in the church at the true "water source" and to cultivate brotherly love in this northernmost part of Philadelphia.”⁸

Ordination.—On Sunday last, the 13th inst., the Rev. W. B. Rally was ordained as Pastor of the German Lutheran Church at Manayunk, by Dr. Demme, Pastor of the Lutheran Church of this city, by whom the sermon was preached in the morning. In the afternoon, the Trustees and Elders were duly installed by the Rev. Mr. Richards, of Germantown, who preached the sermon on the occasion. The choir connected with the German Lutheran Church of this city sang, in their usual excellent style, a number of beautiful pieces. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of German Lutherans from the city, who attended by invitation. After the ceremonies of the morning had closed, the numerous guests proceeded, by invitation, to Quinton's Hotel, and partook of a dinner specially provided for the occasion. The entire ceremonies of the day were imposing and solemn, and were fully appreciated by those who were present.

Pastor Heinrich Melchior Mühlenberg is said to be the founder of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church in America who landed in Philadelphia in 1742 and put the still disordered church relationships on the right track and created an evangelical-Lutheran synod of Pennsylvania and neighboring states.

In his time, the 5th and Cherry was the first German-Lutheran St. Michaelis Church built. In 1769 the old Zion Church was inaugurated and 70 years later the St. Paul Church was built in the so-called "Northern Liberties." Anyone who wanted to go to church in our area or have official acts carried out had to make the long journey to those churches.

On 5th April 1845, the few evangelical residents of Manayunk came together for a congregational meeting and decided: "A German Evangelical-Lutheran congregation in the town of Manayunk, in the county of Philadelphia" and called the pastor Professor Rally to be their pastor from Richmond, Virginia.

On 6th April 1845 the newly chosen minister gave his inaugural sermon on Matthew 6:33: "Seek the kingdom first of God and according to His righteousness."

On the 8th Sunday after Trinity (13th July) 1845, the same was given by Dr. C. R. Demme, pastor of the Michaelis and Zion church, was solemnly inaugurated, with Ehrm. Professor Haverstick performed the altar service. 1 Corinthians 2:1-5 was the sermon and the topic: Paul, the model of an Evangelical Lutheran pastor.

In the afternoon, Pastor J.W. Reichert of Germantown introduced the first church council of the congregation. Elders: Joh. Koch, President; G. Louis Grebe, secretary; Philipp Becker, treasurer. Directors: Johann Astfalk, Friedrich Dräse, Samuel Farell, Heinrich Köhl, Christian Schnorr, Christoph Wenzel.

The baptism, confirmation, and burial register began in 1844. The first confirmation took place in the fall 1846, when 8 confirmands were consecrated, who had already been taught by a newly appointed pastor C. R. Kessler were. It seemed as if the young sprout of this new community would not yet thrive; it threatened to wither again; until 21st June 1848 Pastor A. T. Geissenhainer, from the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Pennsylvania was commissioned to seek out the Germans in Manayunk, Conshahocken, etc., and seek to collect them.

On 15th February 1849, regular church council and community minutes began. In the introduction it is noted that all the Protestant Germans got together, "but since the majority of the Protestants living in Manayunk at that time belong to the Lutheran faith, the church should also be given the name Lutheran for all time." - At the same time, however, a "church association" was founded, to which all Protestants, Reformed or Lutheran, could join in order to receive a church building fund, to which each member committed himself to contribute 12 cents a month. They look around for a church building site, and Mr. George Mitschel (Michael), always well disposed towards this congregation, gives her a plot of land on what is now Martin street, now a burial ground for the members of the congregation, for the cheap price of $145. Meanwhile, Pastor C. C. A. Brandt was called to officiate from Trenton, NJ, once a month for a year in return for travel expenses in a rented facility, Temperance Hall.

On 1st April 1850, the cornerstone was laid for the first little church, which was to be 30 feet by 40 feet, and one story, with about 200 seats...⁹

6. DESCRIPTION — by Rev. Adolph Hellwege:

A written ecclesiastical order was placed in the cornerstone; and pastors Bibigfuss of Philadelphia, Anspach of Barrenhill, and Wagner of Norristown presided the act of consecration, raising a collection of $34.21. The Evangelical Lutheran Synod approved $75 from the fog "Streitschen Legate" as a contribution to the building of the church.

On 25th August 1850, Pastor C.C.A. Brandt consecrated the surrounding cemetery and buried the two-year-old Luise Müller, daughter of Heinrich Müller, as the first dead. The funeral expenses initially had to be paid in the range of $1.50 to $2.00.

On 21st October, Pastor Dr. Demme from the Michael Church, in the name and on behalf of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Pennsylvania the church council following the reverse, which they signed. war: We the undersigned, church councils of the Evangelical-Luth. Congregation in Manayunk hereby confirm that the church founded by the congregation there in 1850 should be and remain a German evangelical-lutheric church for all time, whereupon Pastor Demme handed over $50.00 for the construction of the church.

Now the women of the congregation also got together and formed an association to provide support and assistance in the construction of the church. Here we find the first beginnings of a women's association, which, however, went astray again and only blossomed in the last two decades. Mrs. Christine Schnorr was President, Philippine Meier, Secretary, and Luise Nachtigall, Schahmeister.

The "Youth Mission Society" of Philadelphia donated $128 and valuable items to the young congregation, for which the church council entered the following worthwhile resolutions in the minutes as a thank you: Never may our descendants forget what this club did to our church, and should the call to if you indulge in helping poor German communities, show that your ancestors and you were not unworthy of the support we enjoyed.

During 1851 Pastor F. Walk took over from Wilmington, Delaware, agreed to preach in the hall every three weeks, for which he received $3 each time. Under him the finished house of God was inaugurated on 6th April 1851 with a morning service in the presence of a large congregation and participating fellow citizens; in the afternoon an after-party was held, and on 4th May 1851, a Sunday school with 8 children was organized and opened.

On 16th September 1851, the congregation called Pastor Gerwig, who moved to Cincinnati on 23rd November. Until 18th January, the candidates Kruck and Schmauck preached alternately when Pastor B. Schifterling took office, who had to give his farewell sermon that same year, on 3rd September 1852. His successor was Pastor L. W. Heidenreich, who remained until the following year, 27th March 1853.

Now Pastor G. F. Gärtner was called, who held office for three years until 16th November 1856. In his time he gave the plot of land to the so-called old rectory with the condition that a rectory be built on it. Since building materials were cheap in those days and church members helped out without compensation, the same could be built for the cheap price of $1010.00.

A strange resolution can be found in the minutes around this time, June 1856: Resolved that evening services should not be introduced, as the church council is of the opinion that they could lead the youth to immorality rather than to virtue. Today it is unlikely that anyone will approve of this resolution.

If all young people really do morning service would attend or could attend, and if such a decision could prevent the easily misled youth from running into the English sectarian churches, which keep their doors wide open in the evening, then it would probably be more correct if the whole congregation worshiped in the morning, because morning hour has gold in Mouth.

But God grant that only all young people could also be found in the evening service, and if the older people also wanted to go along to look after their youth, then it is a precious thing to thank the Lord - *Your grace in the morning, and proclaim your truth at night...*¹⁰ [The Church History Continues.]

Image No. 16 – Map of European origins of German-speaking immigrants to Pennsylvania (in blue), Courtesy, Winterthur Museum; artwork, Tom Willcockson, <http://www.mapcraft.com/index.html> [Cit. Minardi, as Fig.18]

“...Most Lutheran and Reformed immigrants came from the Palatinate, Kraichgau, and Württemberg regions of southwestern Germany as well as the Alsatian region of eastern France. The Mennonites and Amish came primarily from the German-speaking cantons of Bern and Zurich in Switzerland, the Moravians from Bohemia and Moravia, and the Schwenkfelders from Silesia (modern-day Poland). Before these immigrants could become Pennsylvania German, they had to develop a shared sense of German identity. This process began during their shared migration experiences and was fostered by participation in German-speaking churches and organizations such as the German Society of Pennsylvania (est. 1764) or the German-speaking Hermann Masonic Lodge no. 125 (est. 1811)...”¹¹

Louis Grebe & Jacob Kraemer, trustees, became partners in a mill located in Berks County, Pa.

“At the base of Mt. Penn stands historic Aulenbach Cemetery, in which many notable Germans are buried. Louis Grebe worked for Louis Kraemer and Company Woolen Mills in Stony Creek, which prided itself on the fact that its output of mens’ Stony Creek Trousers was 1,200 pairs a day. The trousers were known the world over. Louis Grebe was born in Westphalia, Germany and came to the US as a young man. His occupation was as an indigo dyer.¹³ He also worked in Manayunk as superintendent of Pekin Mills.”¹⁴

“Louis Kraemer, the father, was born at Berleberg, in the province of Westphalia, Germany, on Jan. 2, 1828, and was brought up and educated in that place. He learned the trade of dyeing at Barmen on the Rhine River, a prominent textile-manufacturing town. Upon completing a thorough apprenticeship, he emigrated to Pennsylvania in 1848, while still under age, and located at Manayunk, where he secured the position of dyer in the manufacturing plant of Joseph Ripka.”¹⁵

“An enhanced pen-and-ink drawing by Berks County artist J. Heyl Raser shows the Louis Kraemer & Co. mills, which was located in Stony Creek Mills where the current Antietam Road is, across from the intersection of Friedensburg and Antietam roads in Lower Alsace Township. The first mill constructed on the site was a paper mill erected by Conrad Feger.”¹⁶

SUMMARY: DECLINE OF THE GERMAN CHURCH — VETO OF A GERMAN NEWSPAPER BILL ANGLICIZATION OF THE GERMAN-SPEAKING IMMIGRANTS¹⁸

A DANGEROUS CRISIS

“For the distant existence of this German Evangelical Lutheran congregation came to light in the next few years. With praiseworthy zeal, Pastor Gardner set to work. Possessing organizational talent, he was able to introduce better order into the Sunday School and Luther Association which he created. The number of teachers grew to 33 and the number of students to 250. The congregation owes the spacious, stately new parsonage next to the church to his active work. But church attendance declined alarmingly. He himself complained in the “Community-News” that only 67 members entitled to vote had taken part in Holy Communion during the year, and that of 548 confirmed members only 275 had come to the Lord’s Table.

Where did this come from? A very justified distrust, caused by a few Englishizing elements, at whose spite the pastor unfortunately allowed himself to be pushed, had been generated in the members of our German church. With how many sacrifices, through how many worries and struggles the Germans had won their stately, valuable church property. And now the congregation was blossoming outwardly, the number of German members was sufficient to maintain what had been acquired, so that the Gospel could be preached in the dear, dear German mother tongue for future immigrants, and sung and prayed in German, half a dozen dissatisfied people rose up and demanded the introduction of English evening services.

A very understanding and wise church council firmly rejected this unreasonable request, and almost the entire congregation sided with it. They rightly saw in this movement a betrayal of their rights, and bitter experiences, which many other communities had already made in this area, and which still led to the Germans finally being forced out of their property and having to start all over again taught them to be on their guard.

Naturally, the members of this congregation had no objection to the establishment of an independent English Lutheran Church, and so the few English-speaking members moved to Temperance Hall and organized themselves as the English Epiphany Lutheran Church. Initially, Pastor Gardner led the services until they obtained their own English pastor in the person of Pastor Geschwind. Since Pastor Gardner realized that further blessed and unanimous work here was no longer possible, he resigned...”¹⁹

Three Wilmingtonians and four residents of Arden were all that went on the peace mission to Washington today. They included Rev. Sigmund G. Von-Bosse, a minister of this city, who has been active in pro-German letter writing. Those who went on the special peace train were Miss Margaret H. Shearman and John S. Downing, of Wilmington; J. Frank Stevens, Don G. Stevens, Edward S. Potter and Miss Rhoades, of Arden.

Prior to his appointment as pastor of Bethany German Lutheran Church at Roxborough, the Rev. Sigmund von Bosse had served as president of National German American Alliance.²⁰

Reverend S. G. Von Bosse's political associations and activities during World War II ended as an embarrassment to the German Society of Pennsylvania and proved detrimental to many of the German-Speaking Churches.

TELLS OF WARNING TO PRO-NAZI PASTOR

German Society Head Says Church Was Embarrassed

So emphatic were the pro-Nazi utterances of Rev. Sigmund G. von Bosse, Roxborough pastor who mysteriously disappeared recently, that they embarrassed members of his congregation at the Bethanien German Lutheran Church.

That was disclosed yesterday by Captain Louis H. Schmidt, 73-year-old president of the German Society of Pennsylvania, of which von Bosse was secretary.

'WENT TOO FAR'

Schmidt said he had received a letter of resignation from the society from von Bosse on Aug. 6, a few days before the pastor vanished from his home at 4351 Pechin st., Roxborough.

SUMMARY & OPINION: THE DECLINE OF THE GERMAN CHURCH IN MANAYUNK

THE SPIRIT OF THE AGE IS CHANGING ²¹

“The primary cause of their decline came from an aging congregation whose children had moved away from the parish. The congregation had become assimilated and thus the sacraments no longer required the German language to be understood, confession, last rites, communion, and baptism, etc. Clergy morality played no part in the decline. But ethnic parishes catering to the needs of the Poles, Germans, Italians, etc. had declined. Considering the fact that so many of these ethnic churches were within a few blocks of each other, the archdiocese decided to merge them with nearby English language parishes and use the equity of their parish real estate to add to their legal coffers. Sunday attendance declined along with the weekly collection from the plate, and this forced tapping the principle of any endowment fund. With its income greatly reduced the Lutheran Synod tried merging Epiphany, Grace, and Bethany into a single parish. But each congregation wanted the merger to include any merging with their own parish. In time Grace decided to disband and close, whilst Epiphany had a building with a termite problem left unattended far too long and sought co-usage with the nearby Episcopal Church of Saint Alban, hoping to use that church in the afternoon. When negotiations failed to reach an agreement, Epiphany finally disbanded and the Synod sold off their real estate. This left Bethany as the sole surviving Lutheran Church in Roxborough. With a greatly reduced congregation coupled with a large loss of income, the end was inevitable.”

Opinion — Roxborough Historian.²²

²¹ A primary reason for the suspicion of the direction of the Church in Germany is that the same efforts to embrace the zeitgeist failed in the United States forty years ago and continue to fail today. — Henricks, Jayd. “An American perspective on the situation of the Church in Germany” 2023. Catholic World Report. CONCLUSION:

THE SITE IS HISTORIC

The Site situates 376–378 Martin Street, formerly the German Evangelical Lutheran Bethanien Church of Roxborough-Manayunk, but now a Burial Ground is an extremely significant historic site.

The site contains (an estimate) about one hundred man-made monuments, structures or grave-markers. According to Pastor Adolf Hellwege, nearly one thousand burials were recorded by the turn of the 20th Century. A chain link fence four foot in height currently encloses the site. Because the site predates modern utilities, it may contain an ancient privy along with the remnants of the demolished church building and thus possess a high potential for significant archaeological resources.

This site is an irreplaceable historical asset satisfying Criteria for Designation a, i, and j, as enumerated in Section 14-1004 of the Philadelphia Code meriting historic designation and placement onto the Philadelphia Register of Historic Places:

Satisfying Criterion A

- for its significant character, interest or value as part of the development, heritage, or cultural characteristics of the city, commonwealth, or nation, for its association with the lives of persons significant in the past;

Satisfying Criterion I

- as a site that was largely settled in the mid-nineteenth century, containing a demolished German Lutheran Church, its church-yard is now used a burial ground, it has an extremely high potential for discovery of significant archaeological resources & artifacts.

Satisfying Criterion J

- for exemplifying the cultural, political, economic, social or historical heritage of the community by its connections through its ministers, trustees and its congregants, German-speaking immigrants, who were mill workers and mill-owners - they participated in the development of the Manayunk and Roxborough section of Philadelphia;

Satisfying Criterion J

- for its connections to the faithful German-American Lutherans who fought for the United States of America throughout various wars and conflicts, many who are currently interred at this site, it exemplifies the cultural, political, economic, social historical heritage of the community.

DROWNS IN SURF AT SHORE

Rev. Adolph Hellwege, 30 Years at St. Jacobus' Lutheran Church, Disappears While Bathing With Friends at Wildwood; Body Recovered

Rev. Adolph Hellwege, 64, pastor for thirty years of St. Jacobus' Lutheran Church, Third street and Columbia avenue, who resided at 1969 North Sixth street, was drowned while swimming at Wildwood, N. J., yesterday afternoon.

The body of the minister, who had maintained a summer home at the shore resort for a number of years, was found floating four hours later off Wildwood Crest. He had disappeared while bathing with a party of friends, who reported his absence to police.

And admit that the waters - Around you have grown
And accept it that soon - You'll be drenched to the bone
If your time to you is worth savin' - And you better start swimmin'
Or you'll sink like a stone - For the times they are a-changin'
